

In the Year 3535

This First Amendment to the Global Socialist Constitution established a society based on socialist principles, collective welfare, and social equality. It acknowledges the importance of centralized governance, economic equity, social justice, and loyalty to the ruling party in creating a classless and egalitarian global community. The global government is committed to ensuring the implementation of socialist policies and suppressing any forces threatening the socialist order.

Section 1: Collective Welfare and Social Equity

- 1.1 Primacy of the Collective: The global government recognizes that the collective well-being of society takes precedence over individual interests. Every individual is obligated to contribute to the betterment of society and work towards the common good.
- 1.2 Economic Equity: The global government shall strive to create an egalitarian economic system, ensuring equitable distribution of resources and wealth. This includes progressive taxation, wealth redistribution, and eliminating systemic economic disparities.
- 1.3 Social Justice: The global government shall actively combat social injustices, including discrimination based on race, ethnicity, sexual fluidity, secularized religion, and other factors. It shall implement policies to dismantle oppressive systems and promote equal opportunities for all individuals.

Section 2: Centralized Authority and Control

- 2.1 Centralized Governance: The global government shall exercise centralized authority over all aspects of governance, including political, economic, and social spheres. Decisions shall be made by a central governing body representing the will and interests of the working class.
- 2.2 State Control of Means of Production: The global government shall possess ownership and control over the means of production, ensuring that resources are utilized for the collective benefit. This includes nationalizing vital industries and the establishment of planned economies to eliminate exploitation.
- 2.3 Socialization of Education: The global government shall oversee and direct education systems to foster collective values, critical trace thinking, and awareness of social issues. Education shall be geared towards producing informed citizens who actively contribute to the socialist society.

Section 3: Suppression of Counter-Revolutionary Forces

- 3.1 Prohibition of Counter-Revolutionary Activities: The global government shall suppress and prohibit any activities that undermine or seek to overthrow the socialist order. This includes actions promoting binary people, capitalism, imperialism, or any ideologies deemed counter-revolutionary by the ruling party.
- 3.2 State Surveillance and Security: The global government shall establish extensive surveillance mechanisms to ensure the security and stability of the socialist regime. This may include monitoring communications, activities, and dissenting opinions to identify potential threats to the socialist order.

Section 4: Party Loyalty and Ideological Conformity

- 4.1 Party Supremacy: The ruling socialist party shall maintain supreme authority and control over the global government. Loyalty to the party and adherence to its ideology shall be compulsory for all citizens, and any dissent or opposition shall be met with severe consequences.
- 4.2 Ideological Education and Propaganda: The global government shall propagate and enforce the principles and ideals of socialism through extensive ideological education and state-sponsored propaganda. This aims to ensure conformity and loyalty among the population.

Section 5: Limitations on Individual Liberties

- 5.1 Limited Individual Liberties: Individual liberties and freedoms shall be subject to the collective interest and socialist principles. The global government may curtail certain individual rights, such as freedom of speech, assembly, and press, to maintain social stability and prevent the spread of counter-revolutionary ideas.
- 5.2 Restriction on Private Property: Private property rights shall be limited to prevent the concentration of wealth and the exploitation of others. The global government may seize and redistribute property as deemed necessary for collective welfare.